5TH GRADE NEWS

Week of 5/8//2017 through 5/12/2017

MATH:

We finished our STEM project and the students loved it! Monday is the Math STAAR retest, Tuesday is the Reading STAAR retest, and Wednesday is the Science STAAR! Good Luck everyone, you will rock it!

MATH HONORS:

This week are the STAAR retests and Science STAAR. Get lots of rest and they will do great on the Science STAAR.

Thank you for your support :)

READING:

STAAR Reading retake day is Tuesday, May 9th. If your student is taking STAAR next week, be sure they have a good night's sleep and a nutritious breakfast. Tutorials have been in full swing during the class day, for those that did not meet the passing standard of STAAR Reading. We are excited to see our reading students ROCK this test!

HONORS:

Our final project of the year will be an Esperanza Rising character analysis, to be completed during school. Students will be celebrating completion of the novel and STAAR success with a fiesta and movie. Look for a letter home and begin thinking about your favorite Mexican dish or snack to share. Please encourage reading at home, especially this summer.

SCIENCE: Wow! Our first week of review is finished and our scientists are working so hard! We have one more week of review to go before our STAAR test on May 10th. Keep looking for review papers to discuss at home. All of our work in class is going home with our students daily so that they may continue to review the content outside of school. We are going to continue to work hard during the home stretch so that come game day, we will Knock It Out of The Park!!!

SOCIAL STUDIES:

HONORS HAS A PROJECT DUE MAY 5TH!

Those that participated in the Civil War Living Museum, thank you!! It was a huge success learning about the Civil War! We now quiet down to focus on the STAAR science test Wednesday and beyond that we will look at the Presidents through history. The end of school will soon be here.

MRS. BORDEN'S ART CLASS:

Our district wide art show was a huge success. Thank you for coming and supporting the young artist in our school district. I was impressed with the amount of talent that we have in Mabank.

We are finishing out the year with free choice in art. Some students are painting, drawing, or making crafts. Time to use up all those leftover supplies.

Mrs. Strum's Singers- I was SO proud of our 6th grade choir for their amazing performance at their concert. I was BLOWN AWAY by how professional they were and how wonderfully they sang. I can't wait to see them continue to grow as musicians!
KNOCK STAAR OUT OF THE PARK!

MRS. BORDEN'S ART CLASS:

Good luck on STAAR.

We will finish up the year exploring different crafts using up all those leftover supplies in my closet.
